'TJC And Roses Represent Tyler'—Joe Davis

"When I think of Tyler, I think of TJC and roses."

From these words of Joe Davis, manager of the Tyler office of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, was born the artist's drawing on the front cover of the 1955 Tyler telephone directory.

The sketch shows a front view of the main building, a red brick structure set off by snow white columns and a border of blossoming roses. Prominently displayed in the foreground is the familiar Apache entrance sign, black background, gold lettering, and the engraved head of an Apache chief in gold.

The search for a suitable cover subject, perhaps seemingly simple for an ordinary layman, began last May. In order to be usable the cover had to pass several rigid requirements.

It had to have reader appeal, yet it could not be an advertisement featuring a commercial organization. Also, it had to be of such a nature that no discrimination would be shown, yet it had to be of community interest.

Davis felt that Tyler Junior College met these specifications.

In cooperation with Melvin Sisk and Frank Bronaugh, members of the Tyler Chamber of Commerce and Dr. H. E. Jenkins, president of TJC, the decision was to use TJC.

"But the decision was not reached until we had considered and rejected many different ideas," explained Davis.

The final drawing done in pen and ink is by C. Collier, Dallas artist who does much of the art work for Southwestern Bell. Collier worked from an original photograph of the college. Collier's drawing was presented to Dr. Jenkins by Davis and now occupies a place of honor in the president's office.

Inside the new directory, Southwestern Bell has included a number of interesting facts about Tyler, founded in the 1840's and now "an industrial center of the Southwest" though "highly cultural."

Tyler as the medical center of East Texas, Tyler as the rose center of the nation, Tyler's 58 churches, numerous parks and playgrounds, Tyler's "first class" symphony orchestra, Tyler's nationally known Apache Belles, are brought to public attention under "Some Interesting Facts about Tyler."

Not publicized is the fact that Southwestern Bell was one of the financial contributors toward the present college in 1948.

But the TJC display on this year's directory cover is according to Dr. Jenkins "further evidence of the public spirit of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, one of the original founders of Tyler Junior College."

$10 DOOR PRIZE

Six Girls To Model In All-Girl Assembly

Six pretty girls modeling fashions from Mayer & Schmidt will be part of a special "program for college girls" Tuesday, March 29, in the Science Lecture Hall during the activity period.

Looking into fashion trends, drawing for a $10 door prize, and planning for the annual all-girl luncheon are also features of the program sponsored by Atta Kula Kula, all-girl organization of the college.

Girls who will model are:

Frances Blakely, Mary Emma Ray, Jane Davis, Ann Walters, Toni Powers, and Shirley Brule.

Mrs. Bobbie Erwin, head of sportswear at Mayer & Schmidt, will discuss fashion trends for college girls and tell them how to make the most of the spring wardrobe.

"Important plans" for the annual luncheon honoring all TJC girls and given by Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Caldwell in the Woman's Building wil lbe made, Miss Elizabeth Bryarly, sponsor of AKK, has announced. Miss Bryarly said the tentative date for the luncheon had been set for the last Saturday in April.

Every girl who attends the program will have a chance at the door prize, a $10 gift certificate from Mayer & Schmidt, Amelia Huskey, AKK president said. Each girl will receive a number as she enters the door and Bob Bowman, Pow Wow editor, will draw from duplicate numbers at the end of the program.

Other officers participating in plans for the program are Vice-president Shirley Summers of Tyler and Secretary Barbara Guest, also of Tyler.

Women of the faculty are invited to attend the program.

The sophomore class invites every student to attend the all-college picnic-party tomorrow from 5 to 8:30 p.m. at Tyler State Park.

Free food, free transportation, free entertainment and fun for everybody!

Don Boyd, class president announced that buses would run if students did not go in cars.

Sponsor of the sophomore class is Dr. Wylie Jenkins, history instructor. Douglas Long is vice-president and Laree Sides is secretary.

Rodney Kamel, sophomore, will be in charge of food for the picnic.

2 $400 Scholarships Open In Scandinavian Country

Two $400 scholarships are currently being offered to all undergraduate students at TJC for a year of study in Scandinavian countries including Sweden, Finland and Norway.

While in Scandinavia the students will study the language and cultural background of the country by living and studying with the Scandinavian people. Students will also have full opportunity to work on their major.

Interested students are advised to write The American-Scandinavian Council for Adult Education, 127 East 73 Street, New York 21, N. Y.

Belles' Film Aids GE Co.

TJC's Apache Belles can feel that they had a small part in bringing the new $15,000,000 General Electric plant to Tyler.

In a letter to Mrs. Mildred Stringer, counselor of the Apache Belles, C. L. Sawyer, supervisor of employe relations, said the GE company will use the Paramount film short, 'Drilling for Girls in Texas,' "in selling Tyler to our people as a place to live."

"The presentation of the Home Heating and Cooling Department's plans for a plant in Tyler gained that extra sparkle through the services of your two Apache Belles, Nancy Duckett and Mary Ann Ward.

"The Apache Belles, I feel sure, are an outstanding asset of your community . . ." added Sawyer.

Extra Day Added To Easter Holiday

An extra day has been announced for the Easter holidays extending them from Thursday afternoon, April 7 to Tuesday morning, April 12.

In allotting the extra day Dean E. M. Potter explained that "since we have not lost time from classes this year to any appreciable extent, it has been decided to declare a second holiday for Easter; accordingly, classes will not operate Friday, April 8 and Monday, April 11."

Faculty and students could not find a better Easter Egg than the extra day.

FTA Members To Attend Convention

Ten members of the TJC's Future Teacher's Association leave today for the annual state convention at Sam Houston State Teacher's College in Huntsville.

Mrs. Mary Wallace, FTA sponsor, has announced the following members will attend:

Patsy Porter, Betty Rozell, Cora Burges, Jackie McKenzie, J. P. Morgan, Shirley Kennedy, Marilyn Williams, Thomas Clinton and Irene Martin.

Shirley is TJC's future teacher's representative.

An opportunity will be offered to hear outstanding persons in education. Theme of this year's convention is Education, an Investment in Humanity.

Entertainment will include a concert by the Sam Houston Bearkat Band, A Cappella Choir, and The Singing Men.

Special tours of Sam Houston Shrines, and the Texas Prison System Headquarters will be conducted.

A rummage sale was held recently to defray convention expenses. Last week students brought relevant articles such as outgrown clothing to Mrs. Wallace's office. The sale was conducted near the city parking lot area on East Elm street.

With the idea of further meeting expenses for this spring's convention, FTA members sold football programs last season in conjunction with Phi Theta Kappa.

The convention will be climaxed by a picnic Friday, March 25, followed by a banquet and dance Saturday night.

Special Bond Election Issue Set For April 16

April 16 has been set as the date for the special election on the $300,000 bond issue to provide additional classroom and auditorium facilities for TJC.

The election was called for Saturday, April 16 by the Tyler Junior College Board of Trustees in a special meeting Tuesday.

One thousand three hundred twelve tax-paying residents of the TJC district have signed a petition asking for the election. This is more than five times the 250 signatures required before the election could be called.

Others who had indicated their desire to sign the petition stated that they would have done so had the petition not been called in before the board meeting Tuesday.

An increase in taxes from 20 cents to 23 cents on each $100 assessed valuation (three cents for every $100) is all that will be needed to finance construction.

If passed, the bond issue will be used to build and equip a combination classroom—auditorium for the college.

At the present time, TJC is the only major junior college in Texas that does not have an auditorium.

Apparent need of additional classroom space is shown when comparing the current enrollment of 1,915 white students with the 1,000 students that the present building was designed to accommodate in 1948.

The proposed auditorium will seat 1,000.

Members of the school board pointed out that the additional three cents tax would still leave TJC with one of the lowest tax rates of any junior college in Texas. At least five junior colleges have tax rates that are twice as large as that of TJC.

Twelve voting wards have been designated for the election. The Tyler wards, 1, 2, 3, and 4 will all be located in the Smith County courthouse. The other eight will be located in the following schools: [illegible]xie, Flint, Lindale Elementary, Winona, Swan, Chapel Hill Elementary, Rice School, cafeteria, and Pine Springs.

Registrar Sets Deadline For Dropping Courses

Deadline for dropping courses officially without receiving "F" has been announced by the registrar's office as "One week following the mailing of Grade cards." Grade cards will be mailed on or about the first of April.

Wise Gives TJC Painting

The finger painting, Leaving the Church, on an easel at the back of the library, is Tyler Junior College's latest painting presented by Watson W. Wise, Tyler oil man.

TJC claims one of the finest painting collections in Texas outside the larger museums. Twenty of these well-known paintings, hanging in the library and along the halls, were given by Wise.

A third-dimension of the 20-year-old painting, showing two women and a man leaving church, may be seen a short distance away by holding the fingers in a loose fist and viewing the picture through a telescopic effect.

The influence of the Impressionist School, the French School in the 19th century, can well be seen in this painting by A. Walde of Austria.

The coloring is noticeably powerful and bright such as one might find in the works of Spanish masters.

The shape and directional movement of the blue shadows give that rhythmical forward movement of the two women and the receding movement of the man. Pure bright pigment colors give the painting an air of pleasantness.

Selection of the red garment for the central figure is significant. Although red is a more advancing color than blue-green, the red is toned down enough to recede slightly behind the first figure. By use of this brilliant color the eye is carried to the center of the painting.

Letters To The Editors

Princeton Student Looks For Pen Pal

EDITOR'S NOTE: The film, Drilling for Girls in Texas, brought this response from a Princeton student. Excerpts from his letter will be of interest to the TJC student body. For a picture of the Princeton student and his letter in full contact Mrs. Mildred Stringer, Apache Belle sponsor.

"Last week one of the theaters in Princeton showed the movie about your college. After seeing this movie I was so impressed that I have taken the liberty of writing this letter to you, and through to the whole student body . . .

"Princeton University is quite large, with an enrollment of about 3500 men. There are no Women's Colleges in the immediate neighborhood, so life is very lonely and very boring. You can well understand therefore what an impression the movie made, as it showed so many charming young ladies.

"So I thought that your students might like to "adopt" a lonely Princeton student, and make his life more cheerful by writing to him . . .

"My home is in Milan, Italy. I studied in England at the Universities of Oxford and Manchester, and at M.I.T. in Cambridge, Mass.

"I have three B.S. and one M.S. degrees, and at the moment am working at Princeton Graduate School on my Ph. D. in Chemistry. As for a description, I am 24 years old, 6'1" tall, weigh 180 pounds, dark hair, brown eyes . . . .

"My interests are many and varied. I have played most sports with varying degrees of success, having a letter in most of them. Once in 1948 I ran track for the Italian team. My hobby and passion is automobile racing, of which I have done quite a bit in Europe, with no great success.

"As for other things, I like to play bridge, and love dancing, specially Latin-American numbers."

Sunset Home Offers Thanks

Of interest to all TJC students who participated in the White Christmas Day for the residents of Sunset Home is a letter from H. E. White, president of the home.

The letter, addressed to Frances Hart, who originated the idea of remembering the aged at the Home, stated:

"Would you see that the group of Junior College students who were so good to help bring Christmas cheer to each of our guests receive our thanks for this heartwarming experience, coming as it did from the young group, to their elders, our guests, was, we hope, a bit of lift in Christmas spirit to each of you.

"We who are charged with the operation of Sunset Home hope you will visit us and talk with the guests; they need your help badly. There is not much left in their Sunset of Life. This remembering them at Christmas time as you did helped a lot in bringing cheer into their hearts."

Smoke Signals

By THOMAS CLINTON

From the last issue of Tyler High School Lion's Tale comes one of the best congratulatory notes seen in connection with the annual career day at TJC

"Last Friday the senior class of Tyler High School was almost 100 per cent in attendance at Tyler Junior College career day. Pat Miller, the first THS student to register, received a huge gold orchid.

"Junior and sophomores, do not miss this annual day at TJC when you are seniors. It is really a grand opportunity to be informed in answers to all your questions."

Proud Papa! Last week Edwin "Pinky" Fowler, TJC band director, shyly walked up in front of the band and said:

"Here's something personal I want to tell you. My wife and I are expecting a baby next October."

A hush fell over the band hall; the only sound heard was a trumpet that began playing "Rock-a-Bye-Baby."

Coach and Mrs. Floyd Wagstaff expect a future "Apache" or "Belle" the last day of this month, no sooner and no later.

I would like to "go down in the books" as being for the bond issue (See Page 1), which if carried would give TJC more needed class room space as well as an auditorium.

The proposed building would also give the TJC band a chance for once to have a real band hall. The present band is meeting in the basement under the science lecture hall.

Tyler Junior College, the only major junior college in the state of Texas that doesn't have an auditorium, hopes that the qualified voters will see fit to vote for the bond election.

Wayne Turner, member of the Navy Submarine Division and last year's ex, is stationed in Hawaii.

Joan Schwartz and Catherine (Sellers) Quinn, both past editors of the Pow Wow, will graduate from the University of Texas in June with bachelor of journalism degrees.

Catherine is the wife of Bill Quinn, managing editor of the Daily Texan.

A new stamp machine has been installed in the Teepee. This is a great help to students who have in the past been unable to obtain stamps on the campus.

Wilson Elected To-Kalon Scribe

Shirley Wilson was recently elected as ToKalon secretary for the spring semester, replacing Barbara White.

Shirley is an accounting major and Phi Theta Kappa pledge.

Other officers already elected to the club are:

President, Nona Lou Cook of Whitehouse; vice-president, Marylin Williams of Alba; and treasurer, Shirley Kennedy of Tyler.

Sam Forsgard Speaks At Engineer's Meeting

Both government and private industries are in dire need of good engineers stated Sam Forsgard, personnel director for Western Foundry, at the Engineer's club meeting last week.

Forsgard, 1949 Mechanical Engineering graduate of Texas A. and M., expressed his approval of club members in their decision to become engineers.

He further stated that, in most instances, job offers will be forthcoming upon graduation and the graudate will be able to pick from these.

In regard to different types of engineers, Forsgard said that with an engineering degree a person could hold a position in almost any field since the jobs are so closely related.

Forsgard's present executive position is an excellent example of what an engineering student can do. He graduated from college less than six years ago.

Former TJC'er Changes SFA Cage Records

C. L. Nix, a gangling 6'5" former TJC student, began to change scoring records at a hot pace last week at Nacogdoches' Stephen F. Austin State College.

Quiet, modest Nix boosted his record re-writing task Feb. 8 against Lamar Tech as he pitched in 27 points to up his season total to 415 points—10 points better than former SFA cagester Gerald Cecil's record mark of 405 points in 24 games set two years ago. This was also Nix's 24th game of the season.

The tall pivotman, in addition to his college records, leads the Lone Star Conference in scoring with an average of 21.8 points per game. He has scored over 30 points per game during three different occasions this season.

Scoring isn't Nix's only asset. He also leads the Axemen in rebounds with 260, an average of 13.7 per game, enough to rank him third in conference play.

Nixon seldom misses shots from the field. His 52.7 accuracy proves that He had sunk 156 field goals out of 296 attempts, ranking him third in field goal accuracy. Classed as seventh in free throw sureness, he has netted 103 out of 142 attempts for a 72.5 average.

In the game with Lamar Tech, Nix grabbed practically every rebound off the boards to give himself a total of 20 for the evening out of the team total of 61.

One of Nix's greatest assets in his climb to the SFA basketball hall of fame is the fact that he is only a sophomore, reports the SFA Pine Log. Should he continue his

Apaches Place Eighth In National JC Tourney

TJC's Apaches, dubbed officially as the highest scoring junior college in the nation for the '55 season, settled for eighth berth in the ninth annual National Junior College Basketball Tournament at Hutchinson, Kan., last week.

In tourney play the reservation-dwellers scraped out a 2-2 record in the five-day melee, featuring the top U. S. junior college quints.

Coach Floyd Wagstaff's Apaches, hurt by their lack of height, dropped their opener to powerful Hannibal-LaGrange Junior College of Missouri, the third highest scoring team in the states. The Apaches fought a stiff battle before losing, 100-86.

The loss automatically pushed the Apaches into the consolation bracket of the tourney.

In the quarter-finals of consolation play, the Apaches once again began to trod their familiar victory path as they edged out Jacksonville Junior College of Florida, 87-76.

In the semi-finals of the consolation play, the Redmen came from behind in the second half to display one of the highest scoring tilts of the tournament in defeating McCook County Junior College of Nebraska, 99-90.

The TJC hoopsters faced the Boise Junior College Bronchos of Idaho in the final game of the consolation championship. Playing with their point-producing ace, Milton "Chief" Williams suffering from a pulled leg muscle, the locals were never able to solve the slow, work-it-in type of basketball displayed by the Boise team.

The Broncos stalled out a 60-54 win to cop the consolation honors —sending the Apaches into eighth place in the tournament standings.

Boone, Williams Named To All-Tourney Team

Apache cagers, Russell Boone and Milton Williams, two of the highest scorers in the National Junior College Basketball Tournament, were among the four players unanimously selected to the all-tournament team.

Ten men were selected to the team immediately following the final game.

Selections were made by the coaches, tournament officials, and sports writers on the basis of tournament performance.

Danny Dotson of Hannibal LaGrange College, and Bill Winn of Moberly Junior College, were the two other players awarded unanimous selections. Dotson, a senior at Hannibal LaGrange, was named the most outstanding player in the tournament.

Players Awarded Six Trophies

Six trophies were awarded winners of the annual ping pong tournament last week. Winners were David Florey first place singles, Theron Pickle second place singles and first place doubles, and Bennie Hilburn first place doubles.

Other winners included Don Boyd, who placed third in singles, and Bub Harris and Jack Kinsey as second place winners in doubles.

The tournament was sponsored by the Student Council in the Tee Pee under the direction of Boyd.

Florey won over 22 players in singles and Pickle and Hilburn won over 20 players entered in doubles. Each entry was required to pay 25 cents which went towards purchase of trophies.

The trophies were presented to the winners at the Band concert last Friday.

The singles winner, David Florey, was also winner of the singles in 1952 before he went into the Army. After his return he is right back up on top.
